The Shareholders of Crossfield Mutual Telephone Co. Hold Annual Meeting

Last Saturday, March 28th, the annual meeting of the Crossfield Mutual Telephone Company was held in the U.F.A. hall with President Frank Laut in the chair.

Severe weather, no doubt accounted for the small attendance, but those present while small in numbers were great in praise and enthusiastic to a marked degree with the splendid way in which the business for 1935 has been carried out.

The Financial statement revealed Liquid Assets of over $800, besides the Plant valued at $2900.

Mr. O. E. Jones and Mr. J. R. Laut were the two retiring Directors, and Mr. J. R. Laut was re-elected. Mr. Jones was re-nominated but asked permission to withdraw his name, at the same time intimating that while he would no longer be on the Board, he would still take as big an interest in the Company. This was received with regret and Mr. Alf Harnock was elected to the Directorate. A vote of thanks was recorded to Mr. Jones for his work on the Board during the past year.

In regard to outstanding rentals, it was resolved that shareholders who did not keep their accounts in good standing, and paid up, were to be disconnected.

Vice-President, W. Murdoch, who is also Chief of Construction, gave a very interesting talk on phone troubles, connections, and wiring.

The hi-lites of Mr. Murdoch's speech are as follows:

Telephone Trouble

1 If you hear a noise in the receiver like something is frying, this is a sign of either a broken wire or pole down.

2 Should you be unable to ring central, but can ring other subscribers on your line, check your ground wire, there must either be a break, or the wire has broken from the rod.

3 If your bells ring during an electric storm, and there is a smell of burning rubber, or smoke is seen issuing from phone, get in touch with the Trouble Shooter immediately.

In making a note of the above information much valuable time may be saved, as well as grief and money saved for the entire body of Shareholders of the Crossfield Mutual Telephone Company.

Banff School of the Theatre

Under date of March 15th the Chronicle is advised that the Banff School of the Theatre, through the renewal of the Carnegie Grant, will be continued, but in a larger scope than heretofore.

It is the intention to arrange at Banff a school of Fine Arts, the first of its kind in the Dominion. This school will include divisions for the study of Theatre, Music and Art. In Music, provisions are being made to secure the services of some of the most eminent teachers, while Mr. Leighton, of the Calgary Institute of Technology, will be in charge of the Art Classes.

In the Theatre Division, Dr. Joseph Smith, President of the International Council of Speech, and Assistant Director of the Department of Dramatics of the University of Utah will lecture on Voice and Speech, and Modern Tendencies in the Theatre. Other instructors from New York will give classes in acting, dancing and direction. Mrs. Haynes and Mrs. Cohen will again be in charge of production. There will be children's classes as in previous years.

The dates have been set for Monday, August 3rd to Saturday, August 29th inclusive.

A prospectus containing details and courses will be ready early in May.

Intending participants should leave their names at the Chronicle Office when in due course they will be forwarded to Edmonton. You are under no obligation to go, and the submitting of your name will simply mean the mailing of a prospectus to you, when after perusal, you can decide whether to go or not to go.

Col. James Walker Early Mountie Pioneer Takes Final Orders

Veteran of these plains and revered by his fellow pioneers, Col. James Walker died in the Holy Cross Hospital shortly after midnight, March 30.

Colonel Walker was a famous figure in Western Canadian Life, having taken part in the trek of '74 and a leader in Calgary and Alberta affairs.

He was one of the band of North-West Mounted who travelled from Fort Garry, now Winnipeg, to bring law and order into the foothills, establishing Headquarters at Macleod.

No western pioneer had a more colourful, eventful and romantic background than Col. Walker. His name will go down to posterity as an intrepid and faithful soldier of his country, one whose military services began in the second Fenian Raid of 1870 and ended, at the age of 70 years, in the Great War.

Colonel Walker was the first officer commanding the 15th Light Horse, and served with the Forestry Corps in the Great War. Ever active, even as age crept upon him, Col. Walker was a man of the militia, to the end. He had supreme faith in the land in which he pioneered, and the death of His Late Majesty King George V., affected him very deeply.

The Love of Printed Things.

CLYDE B. MORGAN

Yes, I'm sort o' bookish
Loving printed things,
Loving type and paper,
'Round which beauty clings.

Loving fine old wood-cuts,
And a chapter head;
And a fine initial
With a touch of red.

Imprints of the masters,
Colophons so rare,
All reveal the craftsman,
And a world of care.

Type of grace and power,
Of a bygone age,
Tell their tales eternal
On the printed page.

And I'll love them always—
Sort o' bookish, quite—
Revering in these treasures,
Finding real delight.

But I'm so contented,
When I think of them,
I would rather have this love
Than a diadem.

Type, initials, borders,
Paper, ink, divine,
What on earth is greater,
Than this love of mine?

Silver Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Smeaton
Honoured

The home of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Smeaton was the scene of a lovely surprise party, last Monday evening, when some 25 friends of the United Church Congregation paid a visit to honour the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Games, contests and community singing filled the programme.

On behalf of the many friends, both absent and present, Mesdames R. T. Amery and M. Patmore presented the honoured pair with a case of silverware (26 pieces). Both Mr. and Mrs. Smeaton suitably replied. The Rev. E. Longmire, minister of the church, added his felicitations.

About midnight all gathered around and partook of a sumptuous lunch, after which each wended their ways homeward.

The Chronicle joins with the many friends in wishing many more years of happiness to Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Smeaton.

Will the Old Become the New?

A meeting of the local Curling Club was held on Tuesday evening, March 31st, in the Oliver Cafe, with President Purvis in the chair.

The chief item on the agenda was that of, "Whether or not the Club would build a new rink this year, and if so, ways and means of achieving funds for this objective." Several ideas were mooted, that of public subscription, selling shares, a raffle and the various points of these schemes both advisable and objectionable.

A raffle seemed to be the idea that appealed most, if this could be put across (a little teamwork would do it) and to this end Mayor Wood and President Purvis were nominated as a committee of two to forage out certain details that will enter into the raffle if proceeded with.

Some nineteen members and five outside friends were present and in view of the data that the committee above were asked to obtain, it was agreed on motion that another meeting be called as soon as convenient, to which every man who curls would be expected to attend.

The question of whether or not a new edifice worthy of the Village District, and Club should be built, is not one that should be entered into lightly by a few members, who if successful in their ventures will be commended, but if not will be denounced as having demoralized the Club, but is the concern of every Curler.

Members, be on hand when the next meeting is called, and if you have anything to say, put it across and be ready to vote yes or nay. This idea of letting a few do every

The PERFECT Chewing Tobacco

Eradication Of Tuberculosis

Great forward strides have been made in the fight to stem the toll of human life taken by tuberculosis in the prairie provinces in the past few years but there are evidences that complete victory has not yet been won. There is more work yet to be done before this enemy of mankind can be said to have been totally routed.

As most residents of that province are aware, tuberculosis in Saskatchewan was some years ago brought virtually within the category of State Medicine when the sanatoria were placed under the administration of the Saskatchewan Anti-Tuberculosis League, with authority given the League to impose an annual tax levy on all municipalities, rural and urban, which, supported by government grants, furnishes the finances for treatment of all cases of the disease found within the province. In addition, it should be added, the funds for supplementary preventive work are secured from voluntary contributions realized by the sale of Christmas seals.

While not quite patterned on the Saskatchewan system, the fight against the disease in Manitoba is waged along somewhat similar lines and at the time of writing the Alberta Legislature has a bill before it which will virtually place the war against T. B. in that province within the State Medicine plan, if adopted.

As a result of the work done in Saskatchewan during the past decade, that province can boast, and with justification, that it is in the van of the fight and has today the lowest death rate from tuberculosis of any province in the Dominion, 30 per 1,000 deaths for last year.

Facts and figures show that, partly as a result of the preventive work, the incidence of the disease in Saskatchewan has passed the peak, that the former upward curve of the number of cases treated annually is now trending in a downward direction and that, as a further result, space in hospitals which have had to care for an overflow for which provision could not be made in the sanatoria, is no longer required for T. B. cases. An additional result is that patients in the sanatoria can be held there for treatment longer than was formerly possible, thus improving their chances of complete recovery.

While this is all to the good, there yet remain two real hazards to be definitely eradicated. These are the menace afforded by the Indian and the cow.

In the early days when the Indians roamed the prairies and lived in the open tuberculosis was practically unknown among them. It was not until they were taught to adopt the habits of the whites and confine themselves in permanent homes that they became subject to tuberculosis. Since that time the disease has become rampant among the aborigines and is taking heavy toll. In other words, the "whites" presented the Indians with tuberculosis and to-day the Indians are returning the compliment by infecting the whites with whom they come in frequent contact.

Figures were recently quoted showing that the incidence of tuberculosis among the Indian population of the prairie provinces is ten times as great as among the white inhabitants and it appears that very little at present is being done to cope with the menace.

The Indians are the wards of the Federal government and this is a situation which should receive the immediate attention of the authorities at Ottawa, if the efforts of the provincial governments in reducing the disease among the other residents of the provinces are not to be at least partially negated.

The other danger spot in the situation is the prevalence of bovine tuberculosis among cattle. While much has been done to reduce this disease among the cattle of the prairie provinces and to minimize the risk of infection from cattle to human beings via the milk route, there is still danger of infection from this source and will continue to be until it has been entirely stamped out of the herds.

Eradication will not be complete until such time as compulsory inspection of cattle for bovine tuberculosis and slaughter of all re-actors in the entire zone of the three provinces is in effect, but this consumption cannot be achieved until there is a sufficiently strong public demand for it.

Until that time farmers and residents of the smaller towns and villages outside of the T. B. free zones are subject to risk of contagion by milk from cattle suffering from bovine tuberculosis. This risk, however, could be materially minimized if farmers and others owning milk cattle would in the meantime, have their cattle tested at their own expense and slaughter re-actors. By so doing, they can at least afford protection for their own families and their customers.

It is true that such action might result in some immediate financial loss to cattle owners who take this precaution, but it might be less expensive in the long run than to continue to take chances of infection from that source.

May Move Woolwich Arsenal

Vulnerability Of London To Air Attacks Is Reason Given
New emphasis on the vulnerability of London to air attack is found in reports that the governments are seriously considering moving sections of Woolwich arsenal to more remote places in the British Isles.

Talk of its removal has given the alarmists new occasion to paint a picture of gas, incendiary and explosive bombs, raining down upon the city—a city which already knows, from experience, of the terror of air raids.

It has provided proponents of a stronger air defence with new arguments in their claims that London, with its 8,000,000 inhabitants, and easily accessible from the continent, is not protected against the bombing plane.

Winston Churchill likened London to a "great fat cow which would soon be at the mercy of the nearest foraging dictator."

Public concern is likewise being fanned by current discussion in the press and in parliament as to the ability of the navy to defend itself against air attack. Countering this, however, there is the expansion, both real and indicated, of the Royal Air Force; the development of air defence; the hinted discovery of anti-aircraft weapons which would keep air invaders at bay, despite the fact London is but a matter of minutes from the continent by air.

Those who want the Woolwich arsenal moved claim it has so far been the "fatally weak spot" in every defence plan yet devised for London. No way has been found, it is stated, of protecting the arsenal and rendering it immune from attack from the skies.

King's Birthday

His Majesty Will Ride At Head Of His Troops On Anniversary

King Edward will ride at the head of his troops for the first time as sovereign when he celebrates his 42nd birthday, June 23.

It was officially announced His Majesty's birthday will be celebrated in London and at all stations of the royal navy, the army and the royal air force at home and abroad. The principal function will be the trooping of the colors on the Horse Guards' parade. This was a ceremony always observed by the late King George, and on his last birthday, June 3, His late Majesty rode with his four sons in the picturesque ceremonial.

His Majesty's ships will be dressed over for the occasion, and royal salutes of 21 guns will be fired at certain stations. Land forces will hold ceremonial parades.

War Is Still On

Due To Omission In Participating In Signing Of Peace Treaty

A recent incident has revealed the fact that the republic of San Marino is still at war with Turkey.

The manager of a Turkish agricultural institute recently spent a few months in Europe in connection with scientific studies. When he crossed into the territory of San Marino he was greatly astonished when he was arrested as an undesirable national of a country at war with the republic.

In 1915 San Marino joined Italy in a declaration of war on Turkey, but, owing to some omission, it was invited neither to participate in the peace negotiations nor to sign the treaty of Lausanne with Turkey.

Subjects of the republic of San Marino in Turkey have always been treated as Italian nationals.

Harness 80 Years Old Is Still Being Used

Some kind of record may be claimed for a set of harness in almost daily use in the Orkney district of Saskatchewan. The harness is said to be around 80 years in use, having come to the United States in 1870 and found its way via Minnesota to Saskatchewan. Formerly used to decorate thoroughbred stallions and mares, it is now used on ponies which draw children to school.

Testing Television System

British Broadcasting Company To Stage Program Very Soon

The world's first government-controlled television program will be broadcast very soon when the British Broadcasting Company stages "hear-and-see" tests from Alexandra Palace.

Plans already are afoot to "televise" King Edward VIII. next Christmas Day when he goes before the microphone to extend his Christmas greetings to the empire. If this royal innovation is successful the King's coronation—probably in May or June of next year—will be televised from Westminster Abbey in all its centuries-old pomp and splendor.

Converting of Alexandra Palace, an ornate remnant of Victorian days atop a hill in North London, into a television station is being rushed, and post-office engineers are laying the television cable, connecting London and Birmingham. The cable costs $5,000 a mile, but when completed will carry a load of 200 separate telephone conversations when not in television use.

Birmingham probably will be the site of the next station. It would be able to take some of its programs by the land-line cable from Alexandra Palace, which in turn can be connected with the B.B.C. Broadcasting House six miles away in the heart of London and thence to "outside relay points" such as Westminster Abbey.

The only hitch is that few Britons have television sets when the "televised" broadcasts are made. They'll have to go to a theatre or public hall. Manufacturers, although they say they have perfected moderately priced receiving outfits, cannot place them on the market with any guarantee of good reception until they have had an opportunity of cutting them in on regular transmissions from Alexandra Palace. This will take two or three months after the first tests.

Broadcasting officials and equipment men are working on the "line" will be established in England by next winter and that receiving sets will be sold at from $85 to $350.

Concession To Indians

May Carry On With Potlach Ceremony In British Columbia

Indians of the Alert Bay district in British Columbia were given another chance by the House of Commons to practice their ancient potlatch, once a regular orgy but now a more or less harmless ceremony dating back through the ages.

The potlatch has been dying out in recent years and is limited to Indians of the Kwakwaka'wakw agency on the Pacific coast who have refused to observe laws outlawing it. It is a sort of generosity spree in its present-day form. Indians collect all sorts of things, food, blankets or household utensils, call in their friends and give everything away. They have been known to impoverish themselves for years.

The Indian act provides jail sentences for Indians practicing the potlatch, but the Alert tribe had made a deal with the federal government, proposed a bill in the House making the laws still more stringent. It received second reading but he dropped the anti-potlatch clauses in committee stage after A. W. Neil (Ind. Cons.-Alta.) led a strenuous opposition to it.

The jail sentences still stand but the house decided to permit the evolutionary influences of education, which have stamped it out almost to continue to combat it.

Air Conditioned Trains

C.N.R. Lines To Adopt This Innovation During 1936

Air-conditioning of principal lines of the Canadian National Railways system will be undertaken during 1936. The annual report tabled in the House of Commons. While the board of trustees declared there was no economic justification for any wholesale replacement of equipment, nor were there funds available for such a program, the air-conditioning of main passenger trains was a necessity.

During the year 1935 authority was given for the retirement of 16,912 units of obsolete equipment involving a charge against profit and loss account of $23,238,857. At the same time orders were placed for 100 gondola cars essential to traffic requirements on the Grand Trunk western.

Home Life In Russia

Speaker Says Life In Russia Much The Same To-Day As In Other Countries

Homes in Russia where whole families were crowded into one, two and—fortunate—three rooms, were mentioned in an address at the Women's Canadian Club at Ottawa by Miss Hilda Spaul, member of the staff of the League of Nations in London.

She then told of clubs in the same city where children from seven to 17 attend their own theatres and dances, keep their white mice, canaries and other animals in the "pet rooms", do their homework under the supervision of qualified teachers, take up any hobby they choose or join an orchestra.

Home life in Russian cities to-day is much the same as in other countries, except for the "appalling" overcrowding, according to Miss Spaul, who said huge blocks of flats and skyscrapers were being built but could not keep pace with the increasing city populations.

The average Russian has a normal family life. There are creches and kindergartens for children of working mothers, clubs for adults and "magnificently" organized clubs for children. Education is optional for children from five to seven years of age, but is compulsory for those from seven to 17.

The clubs are a useful innovation that owing to crowded home conditions have become necessary. The new cities are not quite so crowded, and conditions with families living in self-contained flats with gas, electric light and telephone are similar to those on this continent.

Marriage is regarded as permanent, divorces are still easy to obtain, but regulations relating to dissolving marriages are being tightened, Miss Spaul remarked. "The Russians have seen their mistake." In every in the welfare of children is the main objective of the present laws.

Musician And Artist

Man Made Beautiful Violin From Matches And Toothpicks

Piece by piece, section by section, John Swiatek, of Windsor, Ont., spent one year in making a violin of match sticks and toothpicks, until he has a remarkable instrument which experts say has tone and quality. More than 15,000 sections were matched with latitude care.

Not only a musician, John, 23 years of age, is an artist as well. On the reverse side of the violin, he has included the picture of a beautiful woman whose eyes alone comprise 60 tiny pieces of wood; a rose whose every petal and thorn stand out against the workmanship of the background of the instrument's reversed side.

The designs have been inlaid across the grain of the thousands of matched pieces without affecting the mellow tone.

In some sections, John explained, the violin contains three thicknesses of match sticks and toothpicks, to give the proper strength and shape.

After Clinical Tests

Bacteriologist Is Convinced Leprosy Not Contagious Disease

Efforts to keep alive the causative organism of leprosy have virtually established the fact that the disease is not contagious. That is the conclusion of Dr. A. J. Sallie, senior professor of bacteriology at the University of California. Taking as a basis for his work clinical tests that had been made at the Kalili Leprosy hospital, on the outskirts of Honolulu, Dr. Sallie successfully checked them for six months at the Federal leprosy-arium at Carville, La.

The King's English

Recent Address Broadcast By Edward VIII. Was Good Sample

The papers freely discussed the address delivered by King Edward VIII. on March 1, the first to his people since ascending the throne. Considerable attention is given his choice of language and pronunciation. It is pointed out, for instance, that he used the word "radio," rather than "wireless," thus accepting the designation more common in Canada and the United States than in the Old Country. Another commentator mentioned his pronunciation of "broadcast" with the short "a" as used in Canada and United States rather than the English long pronunciation "broadcast." All seem to agree that he was as correct in his pronunciation as in his selection of styles in clothing, which is something, too, when it is realized that the new King was probably as nervous as any other ordinary man would be in approaching the microphone on such an auspicious occasion and, therefore, liable to some slight slip in pronunciation or articulation. — Port Arthur News Chronicle.

Two Alberta And Three Nova Scotia Scouts Receive Recognition

Ottawa.—Lord Tweedsmuir, chief scout for Canada, awarded medals and certificates to two Alberta and three Nova Scotia Boy Scouts for gallantry in life saving. Scouts Tony Orton and George McCallum of High River, Alta., received certificates of merit for the rescue last summer of a boy who had become exhausted and frightened while learning to swim in Baker Creek.

Advice From Chicago

Two Women Cabled League Delegates To Exercise Calmness

Just before the session of the League of Nations' council was to start on March 17 a messenger boy peddled up to St. James' Palace bearing 14 urgent cablegrams, one to the head of each delegation.

They were from two Chicago women urging the delegates to exercise the calmest and most thoughtful statesmanship while dealing with the ticklish situation.

"Yes. If you tell a man that there are 270,678,934,341 stars in the universe he'll believe you—but if a sign says 'Break Point', that same man has to make a personal investigation."

LLOYD GEORGE WARNS AGAINST MILITARY PACTS

London.—David Lloyd George, Great Britain's wartime prime minister, uttered a dramatic warning of the "dangers" of a military convention in the House of Commons.

Speaking on the debate on the European situation following a statement to the house by Anthony Eden, foreign secretary, Lloyd George said:

"The moment you make a military convention, power at a time of crisis passes from governments to the military man."

Lloyd George, with oratory that held the house spellbound, uttered a dramatic warning against the dangers of a military alliance. The French were taking "an absolutely different view to ourselves as regards the steps to be taken if the powers failed to reach an agreement."

"There ought to be no ambiguity," the war-time prime minister asserted, "about a subject involving the lives of millions of young men."

He would ask the government: Do military measures come into operation merely upon failure of negotiations or only when there is an act of unprovoked aggression? He was sorry to see that Eden stood by the military convention.

"Dramatically he described how in 1914 military arrangements had thwarted negotiations and precipitated war. "The military convention is the shortest cut to ghastly mechanical carnage," he declared. Lloyd George emphasized he was not defending Hitler's breaking of the Locarno treaty. He said there was a greater crime. "His greatest offence was that in the inflammatory condition of Europe he should have committed so reckless an act."

"He organized a torchlight procession through a powder magazine and there has been very nearly a very shattering explosion."

Sir Austen Chamberlain, who as foreign secretary negotiated the Locarno treaty, declared the real issue was whether in the future force or law should prevail. Unless something could be done to restore confidence in treaties no new treaty would be possible.

Alluding to what other speakers had described as "Hitler's reassuring utterances," Sir Austen exclaimed: "You find plenty of these. What is lacking is counterbalancing. The German chancellor had offered peace for 25 years, but Germany already was bound under the Kellogg-Briand pact never to use war as an instrument of policy."

Referring to Germany's offer to rejoin the League of Nations, Sir Austen said Germany had already indicated she expected the return of her colonies shortly afterwards. Alluding to the persecution of Jews in Germany he said: "We have got to recognize that German standards and German ethics are not ours."

He referred to the glorification of war in German schools, and remarked it was "these big issues, not small to a question from a board member. In replying, Mr. McCool said the premier had assured him increases would be given next year."

"An ultimatum here, an ultimatum there, another ultimatum somewhere else, each time confronting each country or that with brutal force if it did not surrender, each time that diplomacy by force, with mailed fist and shining armor, prevailing over reason, arguments, truth and obligations, in some cases."

"And then the same procedure once, too often, and the world in arms, resisting aggression. Unless we learn a lesson, unless the world can be assured that it is not in these ways that our quarrels will be settled, we are steadily marching back to a new 1914."

Letter To King Edward

Toronto.—Olivia Dionne's letter to King Edward VIII, asking that custody of his quintuplets be restored to him has returned to Ottawa. It was received from Ottawa by Hon. H. C. Nixon, provincial secretary, who passed it on to Welfare Minister Croll. Mr. Croll, it is expected, will answer the letter, explaining that the king, who has the right to his wards, is determined to keep control of them for the present at least.

Turkey Denies Report

London.—Turkish sources in London denied the Turkish government had decided to divide the Dardanelles. British and League of Nations quarters declared they had no knowledge of such a question being raised by Turkey.

New Dionne Film

Fight For Control Of Quintuplets To Be Told In Pictures

Hollywood.—Indication the fight of Olivia and Elsie Dionne for complete custody of their quintuplet daughters is to be told in pictures was seen in an announcement from the Universal studio.

Charles Rogers, who recently assumed control of that studio, said he had signed Mr. and Mrs. Dionne and their five older children for a screen play titled "Where Are My Children?"

The picture, Rogers said, will be filmed here. He did not disclose when the French-Canadian parents of the quintuplets and their older children would arrive from Callander, Ont., to go before the cameras.

The Dionnes have sought, through many avenues, to regain custody of the five famous babies, now approaching their second birthdays. Olivia revealed recently he had petitioned Judge Egan in the matter last month ago. It was learned the letter had been returned to the governor-general of Canada and eventually forwarded to the Ontario government for a reply.

The quintuplets of the king and watched over by an official board of guardians, are presently making an international hit on the screen. They are appearing in "The Country Doctor."

To Supervise Fisheries Patrol

Appointment For Man Who Resigned Seat For Dunning

Ottawa.—The government position given James J. Larabee, of Eldon, P.E.I., who resigned in Queens to make a vacancy for Finance Minister Dunning, calls for supervision over operation of the fisheries patrol services with a view to effecting economies.

Documents relative to the appointment were tabled in the House of Commons at the request of A. J. Brooks (Cons. Royal). They showed that Mr. Larabee, member-elect for Queens, had been made "special officer in the fisheries protective service" at $3,500 salary with travelling and living expenses when away from home.

The order instructed Mr. Larabee to devote his full time to supervision of operation of the fisheries protective vessels and the fisheries patrol boards on the Atlantic. He was not to interfere with their operations or routine of work, but to report to the department suggested means of effecting economies.

School Grants Remain Same

Saskatchewan Cannot Make Any Increase Until Next Year

Saskatoon.—There will be no increase in Saskatchewan school grants this year, C. W. McCool, K.C., chairman, told the high school board here. He said he had been in conversation with Premier W. J. Patterson on a question from a board member. In replying, Mr. McCool said the province would be in no position to increase the grants until after another crop had been harvested.

The answer was given by the chairman of the board in response to a question from a board member. In replying, Mr. McCool said the premier had assured him increases would be given next year.

Approve Marketing Act

Prairie Wheat Pools Conclude Conference At Calgary

Calgary.—Endorsement of the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act, the Canadian chamber of agriculture and the soil conservation program in the three prairie provinces was given here by directors and officials of the three prairie wheat pools before they concluded a three-day conference.

The Natural Products Marketing Act was approved in principle. It was felt the act was in the best interests of Canadian agriculture and such legislation should be effective throughout Canada.

Judge Of Supreme Court

Ottawa.—A. B. Hudson, K.C., of Winnipeg, former attorney-general of Manitoba, was appointed to the vacancy on the bench of the supreme court of Canada, succeeding the late Mr. Justice J. H. Lamont. Announcement of the appointment was made by Justice Minister Lapointe after a meeting of cabinet.

Postponed Indefinitely

Edmonton.—Registration of Alberta citizens who would be eligible for Social Credit last dividends has been postponed indefinitely. Premier Aberhart said in explaining lack of action since the plan was announced last autumn.

LIVELY DEBATE IN COMMONS OVER WHEAT PAYMENT

Ottawa.—Tempers flashed and harsh words echoed across the House of Commons when Conservative Leader Bennett accused Agriculture Minister Gardiner of charging him with falsifying an order-in-council referring to wheat payments.

In the wildest scene of the session, the former prime minister demanded a full investigation of the circumstances related by the minister, but this more or less disappeared when Mr. Gardiner said he made no accusations against Mr. Bennett. He had, he said, made no insinuations but a plain statement of fact that goes under your nose.

The facts of the case were these: On Oct. 10, 1935, four days before the election, the Bennett government passed an order-in-council providing for payment of money to western pool farmers who did not receive 60 cents a bushel for their 1930 crop.

The agriculture minister said there was added in pen and ink to the report to council, the basis for the order-in-council, a stipulation that the money should not be paid until an auditor's certificate was received. This was added, he said, after a telegram was sent from a finance department official in Toronto to a Bennett official in Ottawa, Mr. Bennett being in Toronto that day.

The Conservative leader accused the minister of relating the story in order to leave the implication an order-in-council had been falsified after passage. Otherwise, he said, there could be no purpose in relating it.

Mr. Gardiner denied the implication. He related the story, he said, to show the Bennett government, by adding the stipulation relating to the auditor's report, had delayed payments. If the words added in ink had not been included, payments could have been made immediately.

Mr. Bennett insisted the words were added to protect the public treasury and delay was not in the government's mind.

The whole scene threw the house into a turmoil which at times ran to heavy drama and at other times to slapstick comedy. The drama was interrupted by Mr. Bennett referring to his record for integrity and his honor built up through the years which now was being impugned.

There were several periods of comedy with Mr. Bennett and Mr. Gardiner arguing for five minutes at a stretch who had the right to speak. At another time, the Conservative leader and the minister passed the order-in-council and forth between them, asking questions and answering them.

Attempting New Hop

Soviet Aviators Will Try Flight Over Franz Josef Land

Moscow.—Two Soviet flyers will soon attempt to make the first aeroplane flight ever attempted over Franz Josef Land, glacial archipelago in the Arctic circle, it was announced here.

The two airmen will take off from the Nova Zembla islands, in the seas north of Russia, and endeavor to fly 400 miles of frozen sea to their destination.

Sir Thomas Inskip, Attorney-General of Great Britain since 1932, has been named as the new minister to co-ordinate the defence forces of Great Britain.

Requests Immediate Action

Solving Of Railway Problem Asked By Canadian Chamber Of Commerce

Montreal.—"Immediate and effective action to solve our urgent and pressing railway problem," was asked by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in a communication despatched to government authorities at Ottawa. Recommendations were made to the government by the chamber, "in view of the serious financial situation of Canada."

The chamber also recommended that power to regulate rates and service, now in the hands of the government, should be carefully protected, and if necessary the functions and authority of the board of railway commissioners should be extended.

Naval Officer Slain

Vice-Admiral Somerville Murdered In His Home In Ireland

Castletown, Ireland.—Vice-Admiral Henry Boyle Townshend Somerville, senior naval officer at Halifax, N.S. in 1917, was murdered by one of four gunmen who invaded his home and shot him dead.

Driving up in an automobile, the quartet rushed into the vice-admiral's residence. One of them drew a revolver and discharged it at Somerville. Then they all ran out.

The only witness to the murder was the naval officer's wife who was too grief-stricken to give a detailed account of the slaying.

The motive for the killing was not disclosed.

Wheat Board Probe

Minister Of Trade And Commerce Is Appointed Chairman

Ottawa.—The house committee to inquire into the operations of the wheat board chose Hon. W. D. Euler, minister of trade and commerce, as its chairman. He said the committee was established because of charges made by Conservative Leader Bennett in connection with sales of wheat by the new wheat board.

The house will be asked to grant the committee permission to employ counsel and an auditor if the committee finds it advisable.

The chairman will appoint a sub-committee of five to prepare an agenda.

Italian Air Power

Says Air Fleet In A Position To Sweep Mediterranean

Rome.—"The Italian air fleet is in a position to sweep the Mediterranean. No point in the Mediterranean can escape our control."

These strident declarations by General Giuseppe Valle, Italian under-secretary of aviation, sent the chamber of deputies into wild cheers. Continuing his address to the chamber of deputies, General Valle asserted that Italy's bombing planes, each carrying 3,300 pounds of bombs, could cover every section of the Mediterranean, and that the present air strength was well on the way to being doubled. He did not, however, reveal the present strength.

General Valle announced that Italy had completed her reserve stocks of fuel and oil for her air fleet and could meet any war contingencies.

Numerous air bases will be maintained in East Africa, even after the war with Ethiopia is concluded, to police the newly-conquered territory. Valle said, adding that at the present time 25 airports had been built in Eritrea and 54 in Somalia.

As for flying training, he said that only three fatalities had occurred in 33,000 hours of training between 1933 and 1935.

Mayors Appoint Committee

All Provinces Represented On Group To Continue Efforts

Ottawa.—A continuing committee of twelve members, on which all provinces have representation, was appointed at the Dominion conference of mayors.

Western members on the committee are: Manitoba, John Queen, Winnipeg; Saskatchewan, H. S. Johnson, Moose Jaw; Alberta, A. Davidson, Calgary; British Columbia, David Leeming, Victoria; G. G. McGeer, Vancouver.

During a business session the finance committee, among other things, reported disapproval of lotteries. Members called for a standing vote and the report was approved 27 to 14.

CONTINUANCE OF NAVAL ARMS PARITY ASSURED

London.—Great Britain and the United States guaranteed a continuance of their parity in naval armaments just before these two nations and France signed the new London naval treaty, dropping restrictions on the size of the world's greatest navies.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and the chief American delegate, Norman H. Davis, exchanged letters, each declaring the principle of parity, contained in existing treaties with regard to their two fleets, would continue to hold good after the old treaties expire and the new one goes into effect.

The new pact, replacing the Washington naval limitations treaty of 1922 and the London treaty of 1930, limited neither the number nor the tonnage of the fleets of the three participating powers, but introduced a new scheme for advance notification of naval building programs.

Delegates to the international conference which shaped the new treaty expressed hope the program for exchanges of information would curb any sea armaments race for at least six years.

The new treaty also limited the sizes of the individual types of warships and inaugurated a building holiday for the larger type of cruisers, in place of the battleship building holiday which endured for 14 years under the expiring Washington treaty.

Any power can build as many ships of any type it desired—a move prohibited under both the Washington and the old London treaties, expiring Dec. 31, 1936.

The powers hoped the new treaty would go into effect immediately upon expiration of the old, or as soon as ratification could be completed, to remain in effect until Dec. 31, 1942.

Limitations on the size of battleships remained at 35,000 tons, but the powers agreed to consider in 1940 a possible reduction in size if experiments on new vessels proved this practical. The maximum size of guns was set provisionally at 14 inches, but the five signatories of the Washington treaty—Britain, United States, France, Italy and Japan—must ratify this by Jan. 1, 1937, or the present 16-inch limit will remain in effect.

GUARANTEE SEED GRAIN LOANS FOR SASKATCHEWAN

Ottawa.—Dominion government guarantees of seed grain loans for Saskatchewan up to a maximum of $4,000,000 would be authorized under a bill introduced in the House of Commons by Finance Minister Dunning. The bill received first reading after a brief debate.

During the past season considerable damage was caused in the west by rust with the result the grain is no good for seed, said Mr. Dunning. This condition was particularly bad in Saskatchewan.

The Saskatchewan government now had legislation under which it co-operated with municipalities in assisting farmers to obtain seed grain. The province guaranteed bank loans obtained by municipalities for seed purchase. The purpose of the bill was to add the guarantee of the federal government to that of the province in order to enable the lowest possible interest rate to be obtained.

The aggregate amount, which might be guaranteed, was $4,000,000 and provision was made that if the federal government should be called upon to make good any portion of the guarantee the province would reimburse it or deposit securities of a corresponding amount with the federal authorities. The term of the guarantee would be three years.

Hon. H. H. Stevens, June Reconstructionist, asked why the government could not loan to farmers some of the actual wheat in its possession, which elevator charges were being paid instead of guaranteeing bank loans on which interest would have to be paid. The burden of elevator charges would be reduced.

The idea had been considered, said Mr. Dunning. It would involve many complications and the method proposed was simpler. In its working it would have the effect Mr. Stevens desired. The wheat board had grain in elevators all over the west and would sell grain required for seed. In that way elevator charges would be reduced. The machinery in existence was being used instead of setting up new machinery.

Replying to a question from G. W. Macdonald (Lib. Sask.), Mr. Dunning said he understood Manitoba would not need similar assistance.

Canadian Legion Meetings

Decide To Alternate Between Eastern And Western Centres

Vancouver.—The Canadian Legion turned down a proposal that future conventions be held at Ottawa and decided they be alternated between eastern and western centres with the Dominion executive empowered to call a convention if an emergency arises.

It was also decided that a convention be held in Ottawa shortly after each Dominion election, and that not more than two years elapse between conventions.

Brig-Gen. Alex. Ross, Yorkton, Sask., Dominion president, introduced the motion that all conventions be held in Ottawa. He felt that Ottawa was closer to the heart of legion activities and meetings there would help cut down expenses.

British Columbia delegates introduced the amendment that the meetings be alternated between east and west and this carried. The next convention city will be decided upon by a vote of the membership.

C.P.R. Motion Picture

Old towns along the railway, famous in construction days, will be rebuilt and much of the action of the picture will be in the vicinity of Yale, B.C.

Headed by George Busby, one of Britain's leading film executives, a party of five men, bound for Revelstoke, with cameras and equipment, passed through Calgary recently.

Would Ban Criminals

Between Ourselves

Valued Services

After many months of long and valued service to the Canadian Legion, R. D. Sutherland has resigned from the office of Secretary, and his comrades will in no small way miss the benefit of his guiding hand. Conscientious to a marked degree the retirement of this officer will be missed. To his successor, H. May, we extend best wishes for his success in his new undertaking.

Widespread Movement

Hamlets, Villages and Towns are fast beginning to realize that a Board of Trade is necessary in their community, and from the columns of the many "Weeklies" that come to our desk we observe that new Boards are being formed practically every week.

The movement is a good one and the value of a Board of Trade to a community cannot be overstressed.

Our Radio Column

The new column on our inside page "Ether Waves" is designed to be of assistance to radio owners, and if any of our readers have radio problems or feel that some small thing in their radio is just not right, drop a line to Omar in care of the Chronicle and he will gladly give you advice. In lots of cases, some of our readers living quite a distance from town, may feel that if they were just told what is the minor trouble they are experiencing, they would appreciate it, and for these problems this column has been designed. Its yours to use freely.

Business Beginning

Two of the district's young men are now starting out in business for themselves, L. C. Spivey and Ernest Tweeddale, the former in Radio work, the latter in Gents Tailoring. The Chronicle extends best wishes for their success.

Life's Purpose

One ship drives East, and another West
With the self same winds that blow;
'Tis the set of the sails and not the gales,
Which decide the way to go.
Like the winds of the sea are the ways of fate,
As we voyage along through life;
'Tis the will of the soul that decides the goal,
And not the calm or strife.

LET US HAVE IT

"If you have a bit of news,
Send it in,
Something that will amuse,
Send it in,
A story that is true,
An accident that's new,
We want to hear from you,
Send it in,
"Don't wait a month to do it,
Send it in,
Don't let 'em beat you to it.
Send it in,
Something serious or a jest,
Just which ever you like best,
The editor will do the rest,
Send it in."

thing is much too common, some withholding from a disintegrated point of view, others from the fact that they want this or that project to fail, and in the event of failure be the first to say, "Well we told you so."

Its a momentous question, one needing careful thought and planning. If on the other hand the venture is shown as being a step in the wrong direction at this stage of the day, then let it be shelved until future date. The question is "Whether or not a new curling rink should be built, and if so, how will funds be raised." There it is in a nutshell, consider, and come prepared to the meeting to break the shell, giving the Club as a whole the benefit of your kernel of thought.

Your Radio Tubes.

How often have we heard a radio owner complain that he bought a receiver about 1926, and during the seven or eight years it was in use, he only had to replace one or two tubes, and then, after buying a modern receiver, he finds that the tubes require replacing much oftener.

At first glance, one would think that the tubes being supplied now are not of the same high quality as formerly, while actually just the reverse is true. Let us analyze the situation, and you will see that in the original receiver we bought, there were possibly five or six 201A tubes; it was a battery receiver, and the plate voltages were 90 volts in most cases, with some tubes, such as the detectors, working on 45 volts. In other words, these tubes were being used at far below their maximum rating. They were not delivering the full performance they were capable of, and consequently this resulted in considerably longer life, particularly when the tubes were of very simple construction.

Now let us compare this with a modern receiver. The tubes, in order to give maximum sensitivity and power output, are operated on voltages as high as 250 volts, and in some cases higher. In other words at the maximum rating of the tubes. The receiver if an all electric one, is subjected in some cases to overloads due to high line voltage. Also, these modern tubes have in most cases six or seven elements in a smaller bulb, and there is a great deal more inside to go wrong with them than the simple three-element 201A's.

It is small wonder, then, that tubes in modern receivers require replacing much oftener than they did in receivers manufactured before the era of electric receivers, multi-purpose tubes and high sensitivity, selectivity, and power output requirements.

How To Cook A Husband

A good many husbands are utterly spoiled in the cooking. Some women keep them constantly in hot water. Others let them freeze by carelessness and indifference. Some keep them in pickle all their lives. It is not reasonable to suppose that any husband can be tender and appetizing treated in this way but they are really delicious when properly prepared. Be sure to select him yourself, as tastes differ. Do not go to the market for him. The best are always brought to your door. See that the linen in which you wrap him is nicely washed and mended, with the required number of buttons and strings securely sewn on. Tie him in the kettle by a strong comfort cord. Set him near a clear, steady fire of love, neatness and cheerfulness. Add a little sugar in the form of what confectioners call kisses, but no vinegar or pepper on any account. Do not stick him with any tender instrument to see if he is becoming tender. If thus treated you will find him very digestible, agreeing with you and the children.

New Organ For Westminster

Instrument To Be Installed In Time For Coronation Of King Edward
Westminster Abbey is to have a new organ in time for the coronation of King Edward VIII. It is expected to cost £20,000. An anonymous donor has given £5,000, and it is hoped the balance will be raised without a public appeal. "Most of our present organ is 200 years old," said the dean of Westminster, Dr. Foxley Norris, "and it has been patched and patched in recent years. Once or twice it has broken down, and one whole part of the organ is out of action."

Tin cans were first made by tin-smiths, who turned them out by hand at the rate of 60 a day.

Icebergs have been known to take as long as 200 years to melt.

FLEMING'S FOLLY

— BY —
LAWRENCE A. KEATINGE

SYNOPSIS

The story opens with Link Fleming addressing a meeting of Boone County cattlemen, called together with the object of forming an irrigation company.

The meeting terminates, but Buzz Hamilton and his sister, Helen, Link and Kilgo stay behind and Helen asks Fleming questions about his irrigation plan. This angers Buzz, who accuses Fleming of trying to influence his sister and, as he asserts, ruin his "spread." Buzz shoots at Fleming in an uncontrollable fit of anger, but Buster Townsend, Link's foreman, is shot in the stomach, and Fleming is injured. Buzz is arrested and sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

Helen and Fleming form a partnership to provide irrigation for their own properties.

Fleming goes home and studies the plans drawn by Torney to learn whether they could be adapted to a smaller scheme suitable for his and Helen's land, and is satisfied it could be done. Feeling cold, he lights the fire and there is an explosion that wrecks the house, burns it and the plans and renders Link unconscious. He is rescued from the blaze by an employee.

Helen and Link ride to Rawhide for supplies and obtain funds to carry out the dam project. They meet Roper, who greets Helen and offers to shop with her. Link goes to see the Sheriff, who tells him Buzz Hamilton has been paroled, and would arrive on the incoming stage, but that he thinks Link has made a mistake in getting Buzz released.

Ruzz Hamilton arrives back in Rawhide, while Fleming and Helen are in the bank getting a loan for payment of wages for work on the dam. Roper Kilgo and Jacked Mell meet him and he goes into the saloon with them. By the time his sister and Link come from the bank, Buzz has had several drinks. Roper has distorted the facts concerning the dam proposal to Buzz, making it appear that Link was trying to ruin him. Buzz, inflamed with liquor and anger, tries to throw Fleming, but is thrown to the floor. Then Helen appears and tells Fleming she has been robbed of the $400 they had obtained from the bank.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER X.

Fleming ran down the few steps from the saloon platform, crossed the board sidewalk, and grasped her pinto's bridle. "Robbed?" he echoed. "You mean our eight hundred—it's gone?"

"Yes! As I rode past the timber near Iron Spring a man held me up. I—I struggled with him," she panted. "But he got our eight hundred dollars. Oh, Link, what shall we do?"

He slipped the pinto's reins over his arm. Out of the corners of his eyes he saw men hurrying from the saloon. "Sh—make out it don't amount to much, Helen," he added with quick concern at sight of a dark bruise on her cheek. "You're hurt!"

"No. It's nothing." She touched the spot and with fingers that trembled, tucked her glossy hair into place and readjusted her worn Stetson. The girl brushed dust from her blouse and skirt and glanced toward the approaching men. Suddenly her eyes encountered Buzz. At first she gaped incredulously and her red lips parted. Then uttering a low cry, Helen darted forward.

"Buzz!" She flung herself into his arms.

Fleming, with Roper Kilgo, Mell, and the others watched for an instant the mute display of affection between brother and sister. Touched by the scene, they turned away. Link felt a hand on his arm and looked up into the grey glinting eyes of Sheriff Ames Stephen.

"She got robbed, Link? How much? Who did it? Where?" He could not reply to the third question but did answer the first. "Ames," the Star Loop owner said in a tone the others could not hear, "don't let out how much, 'cause it'll make things harder for us at the dam. Helen got robbed of eight hundred bucks we just borrowed from Otto Pieper."

The law man's eyes widened. He strode over to the girl, Fleming at his heels. "Tell me about it, Miss Hamilton, so I can start huntin' for the guy right off!"

There was another moment of staring at Buzz, taking his thin face between her two soft palms while she kissed him again and again. "Oh!" she breathed as happy, thankful tears coated down the smooth tan of her cheeks. "I'm glad you're free, Buzz! Nothing else matters now. But how—" She stopped. "I don't understand. Your three years—"

"Link got me paroled," Buzz measured the rancher with eyes that expressed not the slightest gratitude.

Don't Guess But Know

Whether the "Pain" Remedy You Use is SAFE?

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headaches is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about "ASPIRIN."

He will tell you that before the discovery of "Aspirin" most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. Which is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief.

Scientists rate "Aspirin" among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experience of millions of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this.

"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trademark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

Demand and Get "ASPIRIN"

Helen turned to look at Fleming, who shifted weight in embarrassment. At length he lifted his gaze to find hers still fixed upon him. Unspoken tenderness lay in the soft pool of her eyes, and a fondness he had scarcely dared hope even to exist. Of a sudden he felt again that the Silver Creek project must be made a success! So that later, when both spreads prospered from its waters, he could ask Helen the question he had toyed with inwardly while they looked at the wedding and engagement ring display in Irv Lane's window.

She was describing the holdup. "He wore a bandana mask and walked out from behind a big boulder right alongside the road. He had two guns, and he was a heavy-set man, not very tall, but powerful looking. He wanted the money we—I had just drawn from the bank."

"How much?" Kilgo asked directly.

"I had my thirty-eight," she continued, pretending not to hear. "I tried to get it, but he came at me and grabbed my wrist. Pulled me off my horse, and we struggled. He hurt me, bending my arm behind my back. But I got a clue," she finished with grim-set lips. "I got this!"

Helen held forth a leather wrist cuff such as was commonly worn by punchers. "It was my own hand, dark with use, and its rivet design of fleur-de-lis could only be made out on close inspection. Ames acceded to a brief scrutiny and held the object aloft. "Anybody know whose this is?"

Apparently no one did. The cuff resembled others worn by many a man in Boone County, yet was not exactly similar. At length Stephen turned on his heel, starting toward his office fifty yards down the street. "I'm going for a look at the place," he announced briefly. "Might be there's other clues. Sounds like that guy Berrens, maybe, that killed Soak Torney an' put dynamite in Link's store. Anyway, I'll get that money back. Might take some time, but we'll grab the guy sooner or later!"

There was some doubt of this in Link's mind, but he did not voice it as he touched Helen's arm. "Do you think we might start for the ranch now?"

"Oh! Yes, I think we had better. Link," she added in a low tone, "could we get another loan from Otto Pieper?"

"Don't think so. We better get out of town before Otto hears about this. There'd only be an argument and everybody'd find out about our business."

Roper Kilgo held her pinto while the girl remounted. "I'm shore sorry that hombre had the crust to lay a finger on yuh, Helen. By gosh, if I meet up with 'im it'll be lead fust an' talk afterward, yuh bet!" He flung a surly glance at Link. "Oughtn't to've been allowed to go alone anyhow if yuh had money along," Roper growled.

Fleming had dispatched Luke Green to his livery barn for a saddle horse, and this was now brought for Buzz Hamilton. He climbed astride somewhat stiffly but seemed pleased at the feel of a mount between his legs after so long a period, and they started at a trot out of Rawhide.

For some time Link rode in silence, listening to the eager questions Helen put to her brother. But young Hamilton was moody from the liquor he had consumed in the Half Moon, and once the excitement of their reunion waned, he adopted an attitude of dogged sullenness.

Presently Helen urged her mount closer to Link's. "Is this the surprise you had for me? Is it what you spoke to Sheriff Stephen about?"

He nodded. "I figured we'd come out of the bank about the time the stage rolled in so you'd get a real surprise. O' course," he said so that Buzz could not hear, "I didn't plan on him gettin' into the saloon."

She cast a worried glance at her brother. He had turned his head away for a furtive sip from a pint flask of whisky. Stowing it in his pocket, he faced front, watching them covertly to see if they had noticed.

Helen's face wore a look of despair. She rode close to her brother and laid a hand on his arm. "I—I wish you wouldn't do that, Buzz," she said softly. "You know, I'm so glad you're back, and we're going to have such a wonderful time, starting all over again. You must forget the past and think only of the future. Wasn't it generous of Link to arrange to—to get your freedom, Buzz?"

He answered with a malevolent look. "Still puttin' his game over on yuh! Generous? Yeah—to himself!"

"Why, Buzz! Whatever do you mean?"

"I mean he's roped yuh into his fool irrigation scheme—what folks call Fleming's Folly. He's afraid yuh might back out while there's still a chance to save our Triple H from bankruptcy. So for a last play to keep yuh hooked he got me paroled. That, and because he was afraid Kilgo would get me a full pardon, the only thing really worth while. If I had my legal rights Fleming couldn't figure to keep the wool pulled over yuh eyes! Paroled this way, I haven't got 'em."

Helen stared from one man to the other, her hiquant oval face drawn in pain. "Oh, Buzz, don't say that! I went into partnership with Link of my own free will. Why, that dam is going to be the makings of our spread!"

Again he flashed the flat bottle from his pocket. "Makin' of the Star Loop, yuh mean?" Uncorking the flask, he raised it to his lips.

"Buzz! Don't drink, please! You know yuh—that it was part of the cause of your shooting—I mean—" She stopped, anxiety and hurt fighting for dominance of her lovely face. "Buzz, please don't begin drinking and gambling the instant you come home."

He swallowed some or the fiery liquor as if deliberately to flaunt her request. But of a sudden, as he was stowing the bottle away, Link spurred his stallion to Hamilton's off-side. With a quick sweep of his hand he sent the bottle hurtling into the dust.

Buzz gasped. "What the hell yuh doin'?"

"Keep this up and your parole is going to end doggoned sudden. I planned to surprise your sister, make her happy for sight of you, and here you go back to company like Jack-pot Mell and the others the minute you land in town. Watch your step! Fleming warned sharply. "Or yuh'll find yourself on the inside lookin' out, like yuh were till I went to a lot of bother to help yuh!"

"Threatenin' me, eh? I wish to

Master Code In Alberta

Provides For Fixing Both Maximum And Minimum Prices

Fixing of both maximum and minimum prices are provided in the general master code binding upon all classes of retail trade in Alberta, which has been approved by the provincial government and was released by Hon. E. C. Manning, minister of trade and industry. It is to take effect April 1 next.

The minister stated that regulations under the code will provide for a licensing fee of not more than $2, with $1 for each additional license.

No additional license will be required in a community where there are only general stores, regardless of the lines of merchandise handled, the minister said. A general store license will cover all classifications of merchandise.

Renewing Relief Act

House Of Commons Places Resolution On Order Paper

Renewal of the relief act for another year is provided for in resolution placed on the order paper of the House of Commons by Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of labor.

The relief act lapses at the end of each fiscal year and must be renewed in order that necessary grants to provinces and other assistance to meet unemployment can be continued.

The minister said the legislation which he will introduce eliminates the "blank cheque" features which liberals opposed so bitterly during the last parliament. The legislation, he said, will call for approval by parliament of appropriations made under the act.

Little Helps For This Week

In your patience possess ye your souls. Luke 21:19.

What though thy way be dark, and earth With ceaseless care doth vex till mirth To thee no sweet strain singeth: Still hide thy life above, and still Believe that God is love: fulfill Whatever lot He bringeth.

The soul loses command of itself when it is impatient. When it submits without a murmur it possesses itself in peace, and possesses God. To be impatient is to desire what we have not, or not to desire what we have. Why make a calamity of it by being impatient? Peace does not dwell in outward things, but within the soul. We may preserve it in the midst of bitterest pain. It will remain firm and submissive. Peace in this life springs from acquiescence even in disagreeable things, not in an exemption from bearing them. The chief pang of most trials is not so much the actual suffering itself as our own spirit of resistance to it.

Origin Of Old Term

"Bitter End" Has No Connection With Meaning Of Word

When we speak of the bitter end we often mean an end that is the reverse of sweet, but the term originated in a way that has nothing to do with taste or the usual meaning of bitter. Bits are a pair of posts on the deck of a ship for fastening a rope or cable. Thus when the bitter end has been paid out there is no rope left to wind round the bits.
